

US employers

leading through the pandemic

Highlights from our June 1 – July 3 survey of 507 US employers

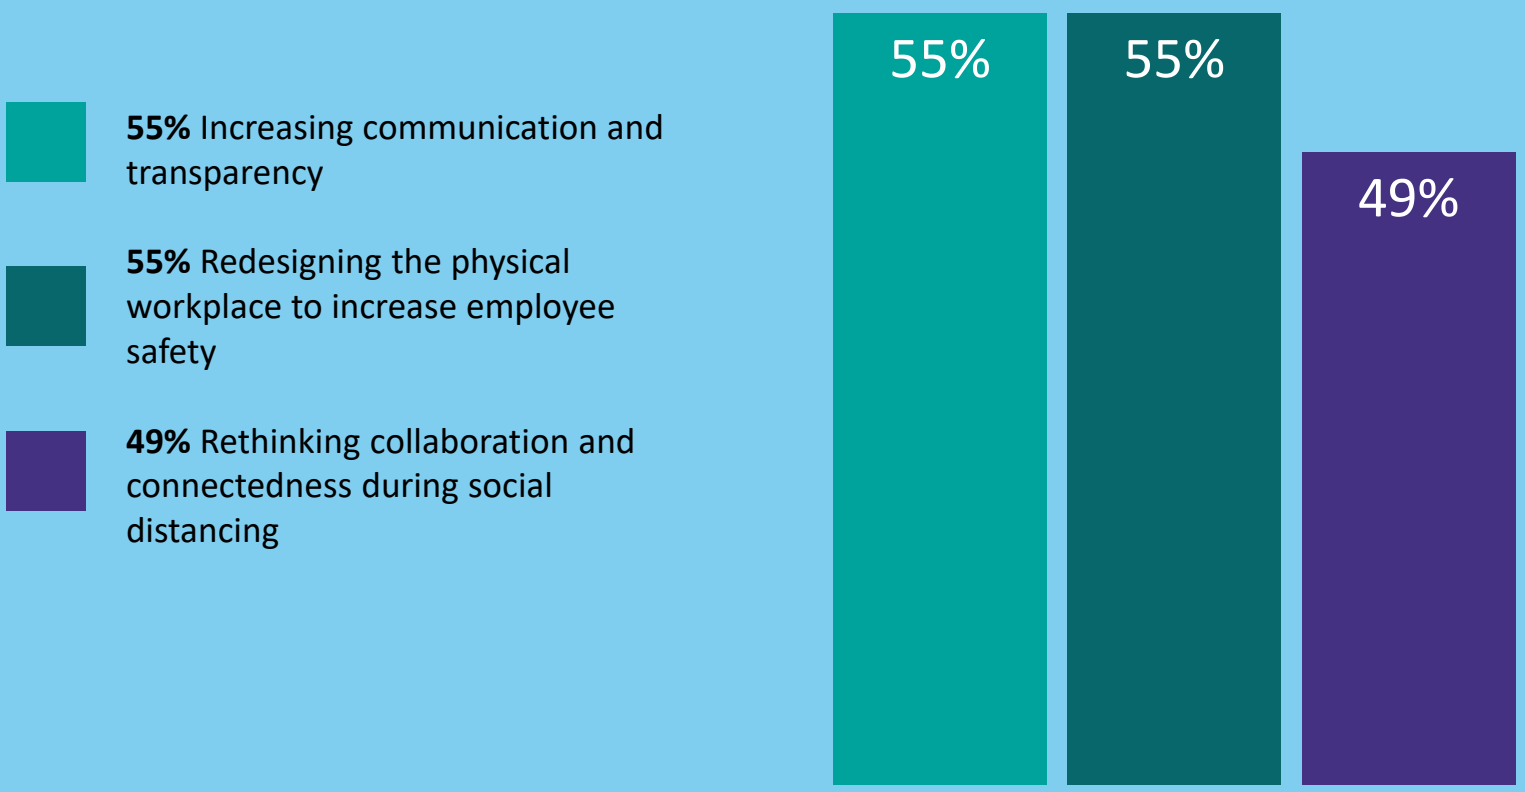

As the economy reopens, employers are making decisions each day about how to return to the workplace safely, support remote workers, and adapt company policies, functions and processes to manage the impact of COVID-19.

To see the complete results and question wording for the data shown below, visit the national results here.

Creating a safe work environment

Top three HR challenges for employers

Workforce actions, pay and leave

* Among respondents considering labor cost reductions.

Employee experience

